General Description and Speakers

The I.S.E.O Summer School is the only summer course in the world featuring 5 Nobel Laureates. It's organized by the I.S.E.O INSTITUTE, a non profit institute (I.S.E.O stands for Institute of Studies on Economics and Occupation) chaired by Prof. Robert Solow.

For its X edition, which will take place in Iseo (Brescia, Italy) from 15-22 June 2013, it will features 5 Nobel Laureates in Economics and some outstanding international economists.

The Nobels who will be teaching at the I.S.E.O Summer School are: George Akerlof (Nobel Laureate 2001), Eric Maskin (Nobel Laureate 2007), Dale Mortensen (Nobel Laureate 2010), William Sharpe (Nobel Laureate 1990) and Michael Spence (Nobel Laureate 2001).

Specific Contents

The main title of the upcoming edition is " Redrawing the map of global economy".

Nobel Laureates and economists will focus on several important aspects of the new global economic equilibrium analyzing crucial factors such as social and economical growth, the welfare state, new rules for financial markets, emerging economies, sustainability, pension reforms and many other concepts which are strictly bond to economic and financial actuality.

The Nobels will lecture every day and will be at disposal of the attendants for the whole week.

Lectures of the I-S-E-O Summer School are made of a fair combination between frontal speech and debates with the participants. Every lecturer is asked to concentrate his speech in the very first part of the class and then leave the stage to students to share ideas and views in a strongly stimulating environment.

General aim

The aim of the I.S.E.O. Summer School is that of bringing together a large number of graduate students coming from the most important international universities to improve their knowledge in economics. It also aims at providing a dynamic and stimulating atmosphere for its students, allowing young economists to acquire specific skills on the topical issues related to worldwide economic scenario.

Since 2004, the various editions of the I.S.E.O Summer School have been attended by 561 students coming from 92 Countries and 232 different universities in the World. The various past editions featured 11 Nobel Laureates in economics as lecturers.
