Marta Nimac, MA

Department of Demography
e-mail: mnimac@net.efzg.hr

Career overview

Marta Nimac was born in 1998 in Zagreb. She completed her general secondary school in Zagreb in 2017 and enrolled in the Integrated Undergraduate and Graduate University Study Program in Business Economics at the Faculty of Economics and Business, University of Zagreb – Finance module, from which she graduated in 2023, earning the academic title of Master of Economics. During her secondary school and university years, she was active in sports, achieving notable success in basketball, including appearances for the Croatian national team at the European championships. She gained work experience in the financial sector, working in asset management companies and an insurance company, where she was engaged in investment management, financial instruments analysis, and regulatory reporting. In November 2024, she began the postgraduate Doctoral Study in Economics and Business Economics at her home faculty. Since January 2025, she has been employed as an assistant at the Department of Demography at the Faculty of Economics and Business, University of Zagreb, and participates in teaching several courses within the university study program.

Research area

General demography, economic demography, fertility, population policy.